

Supplementary Figure 4. Case 2: The chest X-ray shows subtle bilateral ground-glass opacities, which are more prominent in the right upper lung field (A), the chest computed tomography showed newly developed ground-glass opacities in the left lung fields (B); however, lung ultrasound detected B-lines in this area more earlier (C).